

---

PRIORITIES

---

USA

---

FLORIDA DEEP DIVE ANALYSIS

FLORIDA: RESEARCH METHODOLOGY

1 Focus Groups

Global Strategy Group and Garin Hart Yang conducted four focus groups in Florida on May 21st and 22nd, 2019.

Two groups were conducted with persuadable voters from Pasco and Pinellas counties:

- The groups were white men and white women, all were white; all voted for Trump in 2016, but none were committed to voting for him in 2020.

Two groups were conducted with turnout targets in Broward County:

- 18-35 year olds who did not vote in 2016 (mix of ethnicities, gender, socio-economic backgrounds).
- African Americans who had not voted in 2016 with a mix of gender, age and socio-economic backgrounds.

2 Online Survey

Global Strategy Group and Garin Hart Yang conducted an online survey of 1,056 likely 2020 general election voters in Florida between June 18th and 30th, 2019.

The survey also included an oversample of 347 Florida turnout targets. Turnout targets did not vote in 2016 and identify as Democrats, or as independents but lean Democratic or strongly disapprove of Trump's job performance. This group included a share of unregistered voters who indicated they would consider registering in the future.

KEY TAKEAWAYS

- The race is tight in Florida, but there is a persuadable middle, including former third party voters and new voters, but also many disaffected Trump voters not locked into the president's base.
- Many more Democratic-leaning, anti-Trump voters who sat out 2016 – prospective GOTV targets – now acknowledge paying more attention to politics, offering additional opportunities.
- As seen in other battlegrounds, Trump starts out with some of his most glaring weaknesses on health care, Medicare and Social Security, and general political divisiveness. Climate change and foreign affairs are other areas where there is very little upside for Trump.
- However, there is also a segment of voters who give Trump credit for his handling of the national economy in general, but who express real concern about other key issues, such as rising cost of living and, particularly, health care costs. Many of these voters do not yet see Trump as actively worsening these problems – but they don't see him helping to fix them either.

16% OF LIKELY VOTERS IN FLORIDA START OUT UNDECIDED OR MOVE AFTER MESSAGING

TURNOUT TARGETS ARE LESS MOTIVATED ABOUT 2020 THAN OTHER DEMOCRATS, BUT MOST ACKNOWLEDGE BEING MORE ATTENTIVE TO POLITICS

How motivated would you say you feel about voting in the 2020 elections? (0-10 scale)

Are you paying more or less attention to what is going on politically than you were in 2016?

BOTH PARTIES' BASES KNOW WHY TO SHOW UP. BUT THERE'S FUNDAMENTAL WORK TO BE DONE IN CONVINCING TURNOUT VOTERS – AND PERSUADABLE VOTERS FOR THAT MATTER – THEIR VOTE TRULY MATTERS

When it comes to elections, how much do you think your vote matters for who wins and loses?

TURNOUT TARGETS ARE ESPECIALLY ALARMED BY TRUMP'S APPROACH TO A HANDFUL OF ISSUES, INCLUDING IMMIGRATION, HEALTH CARE, CLIMATE, AND GUNS

How concerned are you about Donald Trump's approach to ____?

PERSUADABLE VOTERS ARE ALSO DISTINGUISHED BY A LARGE GAP BETWEEN THE CREDIT THEY GIVE TRUMP FOR THE ECONOMY, VS. HIS PERFORMANCE OVERALL

PERSUADABLE VOTERS AND TURNOUT VOTERS ARE BOTH MORE PESSIMISTIC THAN AVERAGE WHEN IT COMES TO THEIR OWN PERSONAL FINANCIAL SITUATION

Please indicate how satisfied you are with each of the following...

CLIMATE STANDS ALONE AS AN ISSUE WHERE TRUMP HAS ALMOST NO BACKERS, WHILE A HOST OF OTHER ISSUES RANGING FROM HEALTH CARE TO ABORTION TO FOREIGN RELATIONS ARE NET WEAKNESSES

Do you think Donald Trump's handling of ____ is more of a...

ON A HOST OF ECONOMIC AND POCKETBOOK ISSUES, VOTERS NEED – AND ARE OPEN TO – MORE COMMUNICATION TO SEE TRUMP AS TRULY PART OF THE PROBLEM

Please indicate if you think Donald Trump's policies and actions...

HEALTH CARE AND POCKETBOOK ISSUES ARE ALSO PART OF THE MOST EFFECTIVE OVERALL NARRATIVES AGAINST TRUMP

Top Performing Narratives

	Likely voters	Persuad- able	Turnout	White Non- College
Donald Trump promised to protect Medicare and Social Security, but now his administration is proposing massive cuts to these programs.	40% (Raises biggest doubts about voting for Trump – top two)	43	40	42
Donald Trump says the economy is going great, but wages are not keeping up with the cost of living for many middle class Americans and working families.	31	41	45	23
Donald Trump said he would fix the health care system, but his policies as president have made health care even more expensive.	30	43	40	30
Donald Trump was elected to bring a new approach to Washington, but he has been ineffective in this job as President, instead bringing even more chaos and division to our politics.	30	33	36	20
Donald Trump promised to drain the swamp, but today, powerful special interests in Washington are doing better than ever.	18	17	13	17

TOP PROOF POINTS TO REINFORCE THESE NARRATIVES INCLUDE MEDICARE CUTS, COST OF LIVING, AND PRESCRIPTION DRUGS

Please indicate how much each one bothers you on a scale of 0-10...

After the tax law added $1.5 trillion to the national debt, Trump has proposed $840 billion in cuts to Medicare and another $25 billion in cuts to Social Security to pay for it

Policies being pursued by the Trump administration would eliminate protections for 7.8 million Floridians with pre-existing conditions, allowing insurers to deny or charge them much more for coverage.

As a result of Trump's tax law, the number of companies paying zero dollars in taxes has doubled, but 80% of American workers say they are living paycheck to paycheck, and 40% say they do not have $400 to cover an emergency expense.

As a result of Trump's tax law, a majority of Americans – including 70% of middle-income taxpayers and everyone making less than $75,000 – will wind up paying more in taxes.

Despite Trump's promise to lower drug costs, pharmaceutical companies have hiked the prices of more than 1,000 drugs during his tenure, with 20 prescription drugs rising by more than 200% in his first 14 months alone.

Score of 10 "Bothers you a great deal"

LEAST effective proof points: The impact of tariffs on Florida businesses (28% for likely voters / 23% for persuadable / 37% for turnout) and the impact of Trump's EPA cuts on Florida's natural resources (35 / 31 / 47)

---

PRIORITIES

---

USA

---